

Supers Traders Are Visionaries.

'Super Traders' are 1st & foremost visionaries. This encapsulates a total commitment to a pre-determined future vision; one that can be sub-divided, yet connected, with its dominant image; that of acquiring financial gain.

The acquirement of financial gain is a key & defining point; but importantly, this is actually a paradox!

A 'Super Trader's' vision is not restricted to the future but can be found in his artistic mastery of trading 'In The Zone.' By definition, a 'Future' vision should be out of reach, yet his pictured future is actually held in the now.

'In The Zone,' this higher state of trading, the 'Super Trader' elevates himself, creating a calm so pure, his thinking converts into a perfect 'Market Neutral' action. In the midst of his trading hours in this, his most 'Utopian' of places, resulting monetary gains are but secondary; his dominant visionary goal of financial gain is relinquished. The paradox is that the 'Financial Gain' is but an anchor with the 'Super Traders' vision ultimately being 'What One Becomes'; an expression that is nurtured by his trading, 'Living In The Zone' tangibly defined & aligned by his goals.

Whilst in this realm, this neutral state; trading in 'The Zone', his ability to be fully engaged & yet 'Centred' is drawn & conceived by his future vision. His commitment to his goals & ultimate financial gain are contained 'Within This Process,' shaping it, directing its course, cohesively aligning all its components within the boundaries & context of his vision.

So, what does the 'Super Trader' see whilst looking, focused intently on the markets? What the 'Super Trader' sees, reflects what he 'Thinks' he sees; 'Because' of his commitment to his future vision his concept of his result, he is 'Constantly' seeking evidence for that result. By watching the markets in terms of these expectations, the 'Super Trader' increases the likelihood of his expectations becoming the reality he envisions.

In this Nirvana, his creative masterpiece, 'The Zone'; the 'Super Trader' acts in the now, conditioned & controlled, not dominated or clouded by any emotional beliefs. The 'Super Trader' doesn't deny that his emotions exist whilst trading but instead takes ownership of his feelings. With this embracement for responsibility for his own feelings & actions, the 'Super Trader' simply deals with what HE creates. His focus, patience, skill & experience reward him well. His expectations are realised & large gains are possible by his connection to that of his future vision.

For the majority, this may seem farfetched & hard to comprehend, but only 'Super Traders' can & do trade in this totally relaxed state; one of enlightenment where tranquillity & ALL emotions settle into a pure calming divine, controlled by his self mastery, the epitome of focus, discipline & an unyielding commitment to control his secondary voice; that of his 'Inner Self'.

'By Doing All That Is Necessary To Manifest The Super Traders Goals & Results, He Ultimately Becomes His Vision.'

'What If A Man Could Live In A State Where All He Desires, All He Can Become & All He Can Be Is Obtainable & It's In The 'Now'? What A Wonderful Place That Would Be!'

This IS where a 'Super Trader' Lives.

This IS 'Trading In The Zone.'

This IS a 'Super Trader!'

So, back to the title of this document; 'Supers Traders Are Visionaries.'

Are they? - Absolutely! Without question.

I leave you with this my friends;
